That's of Importance

As the woman said with the pimple on the end of her nose.

Here you will find the whole organization trained to the smallest detail of service.

Even collar buttons are bought with care for wear

and comfort. The writer is wearing a 10c Cole collar button bought before the war—it is as good as new. The back is pearl, polished to perfection—the post is thoroughly fastened—it can't come apart—it will not black or blemish.

In handkerchiefs we look to lessen irritation in using. None but fine, soft, pliable fabrics are bought. They each and every one are free from starch, gum or stiffening.

Some beautiful colored bordered ones just in, three for a dollar or 35c each

The whole store is of this care for your comfort.

NO STREET CARS RUN IN DETROIT

Attorney-General May Ask for Court Order to Compel Company to Operate the Lines

Detroit, Mich., June 8.—With the city completely without traction service and no promise of a settlement of the three-cornered controversy between the Detroit United railway company, its striking carmen and the city council, state officials tonight threatened court action to relieve the situation, fearing expansion of the tie up to include a large part of southern Michigan. The strike became effective last night.

Attorney-General Grosbeck intimated tonight that unless the three factions reach an agreement he will tomorrow ask a court order compelling operation of the lines until an adjustment can be effected on the ground that the street railway company is solvent.

Not a car wheel turned within the city today and there were no conferences of the opposed interests. Mayor Couzens spent the day on the golf links, the city council, to which the company and the carmen looked for a settlement of the controversy failed to meet and both the men and the company stood by their demands, declaring the situation unchanged. Mayor Couzens said tonight he would make definite recommendations to the council tomorrow morning. There have been no disorders.

Meanwhile the city threatens half a dozen cities served by interurbans from Detroit. Interurbans from nearby cities operated as far as the city limits only today.

Thousands of automobiles impressed for private use and hire today were totally inadequate to meet the demand for service while prospecting a majority of the workers will walk to their employment tomorrow or remain at home.

The striking carmen demand a wage increase of 27 cents an hour but are understood to be willing to accept a 10-cent increase, which the company denies it can give unless three-cent fares on certain lines and reduced workmen's tickets are recalled and a straight five-cent fare with one cent for transfer granted. The council has agreed to recall the three-cent fare and extra tickets on surrender of franchises but refuses to grant the transfer charge.

REDS MURDER

3000 PEASANTS

Women and Children Are Shot or Hung in Massacre in West Hungary Revolt

Vienna, June 8.—Three thousand peasants, including women and children, have been shot or hanged by the Red Army as a consequence of revolt in Western Hungary around Oedenburg, according to news received from trustworthy sources. The entire village of Koltsch was burned.

The massacre took place after thirty-two villages surrounding Oedenburg had refused to go over to Bolshevism. They desired to join with Austria.

Bela Kun, the Communist leader, and Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Joseph Boczary, Bolshevist Minister of War, visited the districts, then sent orders to Communist leaders to whom such class of work is usually deputed because of his blood-thirsty character to conduct requisitions of clothing, food, and imperial paper crowns now called "blue" money, to distinguish it from "reds" or Soviet money.

The peasants, according to the advice, gathered a small army numbering a few thousand, armed with rifles, axes, scythes, and similar weapons, against which a Red division was sent. The peasants were surrounded. Koltsch was shelled. Then machine guns were turned against it on Thursday and Friday nights. A majority of those fleeing from the burning village were shot. Those who were captured were hanged.

Another serious revolt is reported from Western Hungary, which was started by a Hungarian regiment. Counter-revolutionary movements are reported from other parts of the country by farmers, burghers and members of the working classes refusing to recognize Bolshevism.

The new Hungarian Minister has opened negotiations with the Vienna Socialists regarding the transformation of the Budapest Government.

Severe fighting is in progress between Budapest and Vienna, north of the Danube, between the Czechoslovaks and the Hungarian Communist forces. The Hungarians have crossed the River Neutra and are threatening Pressburg (Przemysl).

The position of the Czechs in Slovakia also is more serious, as the Hungarian Communists have been stirring up the Slovaks against the Czechs. The Hungarians point out that the Czechs refused to give the Slovaks autonomy and assert that they have not treated them as brothers. They add that for 1000 years the Slovaks and Hungarians lived together and should continue to do so.

Patriotism is at a white heat in Prague, according to reports from the Czech capital. The pride of the Czechs, it is reported has been hurt by the defeats of the Czech legionaries, who have been regarded, especially by the women, as the world's greatest soldiers. The legionaries trained in France have been doing the best work against the Hungarians. While the Czech soldiers generally are Socialists, there are no indications that they have been tainted by Bolshevism.

GOLD CHEVRONS ON CAPTIVES

Prisoners of War in Brest Area Think They Are Entitled to Service Chevron

With the American Army in France, the immense amount of work in constructing roads, building barracks, unloading and reloading the vast tonnage of supplies for the American army gave several prisoners of war in the Brest area the idea that they were worthy of recognition in the service of the A. E. F., and accordingly they having finished six months of good hard work, these boches concluded that they were eligible to wear a gold service chevron.

They blossomed forth one day with a bright gold chevron glittering on the lower part of the left sleeve. It was wholly out of harmony with their general appearance, according to the sharp vision of the military police who had charge of their surveillance.

The "M. P." could not understand this hybrid embellishment, coupled with the large letters "P. W.," signifying "prisoner of war," on their backs. Fulfilling his duty, he inquired the purpose of this unauthorized dangle on the left sleeve. The boche explained his affiliation in the American army, but that did not satisfy the "M. P." Off came the chevrons with one strong rip.

RECEIVES 23 FLESH WOUNDS

Maine Lad With Twenty-sixth Division in France Has Real War Experience

Bangor, Me.—Allen H. Kimball, a Waterville boy who served 16 months overseas, has suffered 23 flesh wounds during the period of 16 months, playing an "in and out" game with the overseas hospitals. He is the son of D. G. Kimball, a Maine Central engineer. He enlisted in the Second Maine Infantry in April, 1917, going overseas in September of the same year, and has had the distinction of seeing service in all the battles up to September 13. He was but sixteen when he enlisted, and his meritorious service won for him a citation from General Edwards, in addition to the French war cross from France.

Kimball was declared to be the youngest corporal in the Twenty-sixth division. By reason of a severe shrapnel wound in the left forearm he has lost the use of the member, receiving the wound during duty in the St. Mihiel sector and in the same engagement that claimed every member of his squad.

Lost is Returned.

Winnipeg, Man.—Five years ago, with the aid of a trick, a robber took two dozen watches from the jewelry store of George H. Gilman. Today Gilman had 16 of the original watches returned by parcel post.

What's the Use of Going to the Sea Shore?

No. 771

Ask Mrs. J. H. Williams what she thinks of GOLDINE for kidney and bladder trouble.

Or for that matter on any vacation these would be the sentiments of Mrs. W. H. Archambault, of 59 Murray St., Burlington, Vt., who says that Goldine does her more good than anything else can. She says: "I suffered for ten years with what she thinks of as stomach trouble. I had headaches and dizzy spells and had catarrh so I had to be hacking up mucus that would drop down into my throat. I had heart trouble and was short of breath. I began taking Goldine and I can say that this medicine has certainly done me more good than anything I ever got."

Remember you can always get GOLDINE at W. L. Gokay's Drug Store, Bennington, Vt.

GOLDINE may also be obtained at Thorpe's Drug Store at Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

TRUTH OF CLOCK'S SOUNDS

Real Reasons Why Large Timepiece Is Always Considered to Be Saying "Tick, Tock."

Why do we always regard a clock as saying "tick, tock," and not "tick, tick," like a watch? Is there really any distinction between the alternate sounds, or is it a matter of psychology? Attention to the problem has been given by an investigator, whose conclusions are most interesting.

The general opinion, according to him, has always been that it was merely a matter of chance whether the "tick" accompanied the left and the "tock" the right beat of the pendulum or vice versa. The first important discovery this authority made was that the "tick" always marks the moment when the pendulum reaches the extreme point of detonation from the perpendicular on its beat to the right, while the reaching of its swing limit to the left is marked by the "tock" in pendulums of all lengths. He found that owing to the fact that the anchor of the escapement mechanism is above the rotating escapement wheel and in the same plane with it, the conditions under which its arms strike the cogs of the wheel are not the same for both arms.

One of the arms of the anchor strikes a cog of the wheel moving upward, in a direction opposed to that of the anchor, while the other arm strikes against the cog while it is moving downward, nearly in the same direction as the anchor. The result of the unequal conditions under which the two arms of the anchor engage the cogs of the escapement wheel is naturally an acoustic difference in the sounds produced by the contact of the parts.

An airplane dinner has been held half a mile up. Which is a comparatively low level for food these days.

ESTATE OF HENRY C. DAY

STATE OF VERMONT

District of Bennington, ss.

The Honorable Probate Court for the district of Bennington.

To all persons interested in the estate of Henry C. Day late of Bennington in said District deceased, Greeting:—At a Probate Court, holden at Bennington within and for said District on the 31st day of May, 1919, an instrument purporting to be the last Will and Testament of Henry C. Day late of Bennington in said District, deceased, was presented to the Court aforesaid, for Probate.

And it is ordered by said Court that the 24th day of June, 1919, at the Probate Office in said Bennington, be assigned for proving said instrument, and that notice thereof be given to all persons concerned, by publishing this order three weeks successively in the Bennington Evening Banner, a newspaper circulating in that vicinity, in said District, previous to the time appointed.

THEREFORE, you are hereby notified to appear before said Court, at the time and place aforesaid, and contest the probate of said will, if you have cause.

Given under my hand at Bennington in said District, this 31st day of May, 1919.

AMY H. HARBOR, Register.

Tire Sense

It takes rubber and fine cotton to make a good tire. Mere words will make a guarantee. When you pay good money for a guarantee read it and see what you are getting. Nearly all commercial guarantees leave the manufacturer to do as he pleases. You get nothing more than he is disposed to give.

A manufacturer advertising his product as Guaranteed For Life has been known to refuse to replace anything while another whose guarantee was nominally for ninety days replaced parts two years after the sale of the article. It pays to buy a tire, not a guarantee. By long experience we have learned what makes a good tire. The Tires we buy to sell to you are bought for their quality from manufacturers who we know will stand back of their products. At an attractive discount we are now offering a line of well known tires carrying a 6000 mile guarantee.
